James J. Modarelli
Chief,
Technical Information
Division

Mr. Modarelli is a graduate of the Cleveland Institute of Art and joined Lewis as an artist-designer in 1949. The NASA Seal and Insignia are his design, done while he was stationed in Washington during 1959 - 1961 when he directed all exhibit and publication activity for NASA. He has managed the Lewis Information Division activities since 1961.

INFORMATION SOURCES

These remarks are to describe the several technical information channels available and how to use them: NASA STAR and AIAA abstracts, NASA documents, including the Technology Utilization series, NASA depositories, and other Federal documentation services.
